

A FACTORY TO REMOVE.

The Northwood Glass Works, of Martin's Ferry, will leave,

AND BUILD UP A LARGER FACTORY

In the vicinity of Pittsburgh, where a wealthy syndicate has a boom town, and offers a free site and a big bonus—work to begin on the new factory at once.—The Particulars.

The Northwood glass works, of Martin's Ferry, will leave that town soon, and build a new and larger factory at Elwood, Pa., a new town not far from Pittsburgh. This statement will be news to almost everybody outside of the stockholders of the company, but it is reliable, and if there is no hitch in the arrangements, as there frequently is when a big bonus is concerned, the new factory will be ready to begin making glass after the usual summer shut down.

Elwood was established as an industrial town by a very wealthy English syndicate. Two large iron mills are now being erected there and a big enameling works is about to be begun. Two other glass factories have also been about secured, and the indications are that the project to make it a considerable manufacturing city will be a success.

The company made the Northwood company an offer of a free site ample for all purposes, and in addition a big bonus. Just what sum the bonus is is not known, but it is somewhat indicated by the remark of a gentleman who is posted, that it is more money than the factory has made in five years. The contract has been drawn up and accepted by both parties, and it is expected it will be formally signed to-morrow. The work of building the factory at Elwood will then commence at once.

A sixteen-pot furnace will be built at once, and it is the expectation that this will be added to at a very early date. The making of glass will be begun, as indicated above, in September next. The company had definitely decided to seek a new location. The stockholders and managers have no objection to Martin's Ferry, it is understood, as a location, but their present factory there is not as large as they need, and there is no room to extend it as they desire.

Elwood is advantageously situated for shipping, having three railroads, and the offer received was of such a character that business men left no course open but to accept it.

The removal is a rather serious thing for Martin's Ferry. While the Northwood is not one of her largest factories, it is one that has run with unusual steadiness, and paid out more money from one year's end to another than some of the more pretentious concerns. In the new factory the company will make a line of glassware similar to their present product, but will add also some profitable specialties which they cannot turn out with their present facilities.

The information comes straight, and there is no possible doubt of its reliability.

Condition of the Glass Trade.

The Ohio Valley is not having a very successful time of it at present, so far as operating its factories is concerned. In Bellaire and Martin's Ferry most of the furnaces are idle, while in this city matters have been slow also. The Central glass works had poor luck the past few weeks with broken pots. The North Wheeling Bottle company, however, are doing very well. At Wellsburg only the Riverside glass works and the factory of the Nail City Stamping company are doing well. Steubenville is a notable exception to the generally dull condition, and the Crystal Glass company, of Bridgeport, are also doing well. The latter place is having the most successful run of its existence this season. In Bellaire the window houses alone are doing well.

THE CELEBRATION COMMITTEE

Called to Meet this Afternoon.—The Mayor Takes Action.

Though Mayor Seabright is laid up in bed, his favorite scheme for a worthy celebration of the inauguration of the electric light plant and the new stone bridge is still uppermost in his mind. Yesterday afternoon he was able to sit up, and was shocked to discover that the ward committees, appointed by him to arrange for the celebration, had not yet made a move.

It having been suggested that it would be well for him as mayor of the city and the sole originator of the scheme, to set a time for the committee to meet, his Honor yesterday appointed a temporary executive committee, selected from among the names on the ward committees, to start the ball rolling. These are the gentlemen appointed: Messrs. H. K. List, Morris Horkheimer, Joseph Spidel, James B. Taney, Ed. Robertson, H. C. Ogden, H. F. Behrens, W. C. Handlan, John Frew, Hurlihon Quarrier, Louis Colmar, and Henry Baer. These gentlemen are requested by the mayor to meet this afternoon at four o'clock, sharp, in the rooms of the chamber of commerce over the public library.

Mayor Seabright has this matter much to heart, and hopes that a celebration will be arranged for and that it will be in every way worthy of the citizens of Wheeling and the two magnificent monuments it is intended to dedicate. "The world," said he yesterday, "is 'Forward, march!'"

Open Saloons on Sunday.

Some of the saloon keepers have introduced a new scheme. They keep their places open on Sunday, but claim to be selling nothing stronger than "pop" and sandwiches. If they sell liquor or beer it is the hardest thing in the world to catch them. One of the saloons which runs a lunch counter also kept open to sell lunch, but was found to be selling all sorts of drinks, and the proprietor was fined. The saloon keepers do not seem to realize when they are well off. There is already talk of amending the ordinance to prohibit the keeping open of a saloon on Sunday for any purpose, and if this were done the saloon keepers who now violate the law and escape the penalty by a subterfuge, will blame everybody but themselves.

M. E. Lally was arrested by Officer Creighton yesterday for selling on Sunday.

Special Services Yesterday.

Yesterday morning Wheeling Lodge G. U. O. O. F. attended divine services in a body at the A. M. E. church, where Rev. J. R. Adkins, pastor of the A. M. E. church at Bellaire, preached an earnest and eloquent sermon to the order, the theme being of an appropriate character. The church was crowded by the congregation which was attracted to hear the fine discourse.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

Capt. J. E. Ledlie, of Pittsburgh, is at the Windsor Hotel.

George A. Smith, of Huntington, took dinner at the Behler yesterday.

F. S. Weaver, of Mountsville, stopped yesterday at the McClure House.

Mr. M. Marsh is seriously ill at his residence on South Broadway with la grippe.

William Eberle, sr., of Bridgeport, is confined to bed by a severe attack of the grip.

George Porter has returned to the city, after a service of a little over two years in the United States army.

Misses Lettie and Jessie Maher entertained the Coterie Club Friday evening at their home on South Broadway, Island.

Miss M. A. Bolding, of Charleston, S. C., a relative of Mr. J. C. Hervey, is at the Hotel Behler, where she will remain a week.

Mr. W. N. Linch, of Martinsburg, and Mrs. Linch and his brother, Judge George Linch, of Kansas, are the guests of Wheeling friends for a few days.

Mr. Lloyd Jones, of Chicago, is the guest of his parents on Fifteenth street, and will remain several weeks. His wife and child will join him here in a short time.

C. Powell, of Fairmont; J. C. Harrington, of Monongah; John Lavelle, of Uniontown, and J. B. Dorsey, of Parkersburg, were among the West Virginians registered yesterday at the Behler.

Officer Joe Dunn and Henry Nau got home from New Orleans yesterday. They saw the Fitzsimmons-Maher prize fight, and give a graphic description of it. They think Maher a pretty good man if he was whipped.

The Cincinnati Post says: Bishop Thoburn, of India, has arrived in New York, having made the trip from Bombay in twenty-five days, including two days' lay-over in London. His wife and children are with him. He comes to attend the general conference of the M. E. Church at Omaha in May. He will visit this city and be the guest of Mrs. General B. R. Cowen, his sister.

Miss Nell, the accomplished daughter of Hon. John Bassel, and Miss Florence Ott, of Wheeling, were met here on their way from the latter's home Saturday evening by Messrs. Ed Bassel and Charles Boggers. They all attended the play at the Opera House, after which they took the 11 o'clock train for Clarksburg, where Miss Ott will remain for some weeks, a guest at the home of Miss Bassel.—Grafton Sentinel.

VERY FINE WEATHER

Results in bringing everybody out of doors Sunday Afternoon.

ALL THE VEHICLES IN TOWN IN USE.

A day which leads one to indulge the delusion that the Winter is over and Gone—Throughs go into the Country and across the River and the Streets are Crowded.

Yesterday was as fine a day as one usually sees in May. The air was not quite so balmy, but the sharpness of it was not unpleasantly stimulating, especially as stimulants of other kinds were scarce as usual on the first day of the week commonly called the Sabbath. There will no doubt be plenty of rough weather yet this season, but such a day as yesterday naturally brings the people out to breathe the crisp air and feel the warm sun.

The streets were thronged with pedestrians yesterday afternoon, the church services were well attended throughout the day, and the number of ladies, particularly, who were out promenading was noticeable. The spring wraps made their appearance in goodly number.

Apparently every vehicle in the city was out. Those who ventured to drive into the country did not find it so pleasant as they anticipated, however. The mud on the country roads is something awful to contemplate and good to avoid. A rig with two young Bellairs in was soon to go up street, and both the cart and the occupants were literally covered with mud.

The street cars to Martin's Ferry and Bellaire and into the suburbs were well patronized all day, and the Elm Grove trains carried surprisingly large crowds out into the country. The work of cutting Wheeling park into shape has already begun, and it bids fair to be more attractive this season than ever before.

Hundreds of people walked across the new stone bridge yesterday. It is now quite the thing to cross the big arch. It is curious to watch the scores of people who walk down as far as the bridge stand and gaze at it, discuss it in every light, and then walk away. It is a very popular resort on nice days, there being great curiosity to see what progress has been made and what remains to be done. One man has already crossed the arch on his bicycle, but he had to handle it with care all the way, and at one place got off and pushed it. The bicycles seemed to be all on the go yesterday. Many people embraced the chance, also, to walk out and inspect the city electric plant.

It was a health-giving air that prevailed. If it would only continue anything like as decent it would enable building operations and other outdoor work to be pushed as it is not often in March.

This is the way Mr. Hicks missed the weather in his guess for March.

Mercury is at the center of its disturbing period on the second. Reactionary storms are also due from that date to the fifth. The moon's first quarter being on the sixth, and the electric tension being greatly increased by our approaching vernal equinox, it will be prudent to anticipate storms and hard, trying weather from about the second to the fifth. The period will come in with winds shifting to southerly; rain will appear first, turning to heavy sleet, and finally to snow in northern and central states. Don't forget that Mercury is our eld god, that his power begins five days before, and reaches five or six days beyond the second, and expect his sleet coat of mail to enwrap shrubbery, and play diabolical pranks with the wires in many parts of the land. A severe dash of arctic breath will follow. So if the mercury doesn't touch a low point, generally, but especially, of course, to the north, between the third and seventh.

RECRUITS VAMOOSE.

Two U. S. Soldiers and a Rejected Applicant Disappear from the City.

On Saturday morning three of the recruits for the United States army left unceremoniously without any explanation whatever to the recruiting officer in charge. The supposition is that they left for Pittsburgh to re-enlist.

Two had already been examined and passed successfully, and were pronounced physically perfect, meeting all requirements of the army regulations, the third being rejected on account of defective eyesight. It is supposed that the rejected applicant coaxed the others off to another point, where they might all enlist together, as they were companions. Lieutenant Mitchell, the officer in charge at this point, says that it will be impossible for any rejected applicants to enlist after having once failed to pass muster, as the regulations are so perfect and uniform they will be at once detected. The tests are the same all over the country, and all have to present certificates of good character and make affidavit to the fact that they have never been heretofore examined. Once rejected they can never make application again. The action of the accepted candidates is unwise, as this will bar them from entering the army at any time in the future.

A Long Drunk.

Officer Herbert last night brought down in the wagon Dave Reese, of Pittsburgh, who was six feet seven inches and a half tall and drunk all the way up. He filled the bench in the cell full from end to end, and Lieutenant Gauss suggested that he be tethered in the back yard so that he could have room to kick. He said he had come down to Martin's Ferry to get work, and got drunk there and came over to Wheeling to walk it off. His little walk will cost him $5 and costs if the mayor is able to preside in court this morning.

ANOTHER BUILDING BOOM

Assured for the Coming Season—Some Building in Progress.

The promise for activity in building in the coming season in Wheeling is brighter than it was ever before in the city's history and the record when the year's operations are rounded up will probably exceed even the phenomenal one of last year. In the quality of the buildings, too, the high standard of the past year will be maintained. If there is no strike or other untoward influence there will be several especially impressive structures put up, among them a new and handsome granite front, the handsomest yet; a four-story iron block with sixty feet front; the Messrs. S. Baer's Sons' huge warehouse block and a number of very handsome residences, while the number of houses of the ordinary character for which arrangements have already been made is unprecedented at this early date. These will be distributed, too, about equally in all sections of the city, and in the vicinity, out of town, there will be quite as great a boom. All the architects are busy.

It is understood that the W. & E. G. railroad will build a station and waiting room at Altenheim, the work commencing soon.

Albert Schano will erect a handsome three-story brick residence and business room combined on Fifteenth street, at a cost of about $10,000.

Fred Schwerfeger has three new dwelling houses almost completed on Zano street, Island, and will soon add a fourth.

Several new houses are to be built early this season in the Belvedere addition, around the hill, several others in Klein & Stifel's addition, on the hill, and a number in the Caldwell's run addition.

HIS LEG CUT OFF.

A Boy's Costly Sport at Benwood Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday Charles Heldt, a small boy who lives on Locust street, south of Twenty-sixth, met with a painful and grave accident while playing about the B. & O. yard at Benwood. He had stolen a ride down on a freight train, and was jumping about on the tops of the cars, when the engine started to move, and he missed his footing and fell between two cars. The wheels passed over his leg between the knee and the ankle, grinding the limb terribly. He was brought to his home, and Drs. Ackerman and Campbell summoned. They amputated the leg, and last night the lad was getting along fairly well. The accident ought to be a warning to the other boys who indulge in this dangerous sport, but it probably will not. The only wonder is that there are not more accidents than there are.

World's Fair.

There should be a great deal of interest taken in the lecture Tuesday night by Hon. J. S. Hughes, of Chicago, at the Disciples church, especially by the teachers and pupils of the schools, as there is to be special instruction on that subject. The lecturer will not only speak of the World's Fair to be held at Chicago, but of others held within the last forty years. Will tell of their political and material significance, of the enchanting story of Queen Isabella and Queen Victoria, of Columbus and Prince Albert, as lights along the way to national characteristics. Only 25 cents admission to attend the World's Fair in advance.

Last Excursion to Washington via Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

On Thursday, March 10th, the B. & O. R. R. will run the last of the series of excursions to Washington which have become so popular during the winter. This excursion will in no wise differ from those which have preceded, and which have given entire satisfaction to the hundreds who have enjoyed them. There will be the same low rate and the same unexcelled train service of passenger coaches and Pullman Parlor or Sleeping Cars heretofore provided.

Washington is more attractive in March, if possible, than during any other month of the year. It is then that the first signs of spring appear in the public squares and parks. Congress is in session. The public buildings, the art galleries and the museums are open to visitors free of charge.

Tickets from Pittsburgh, Wheeling and intermediate points to Martinsburg are valid to Baltimore, and as they are good for ten days ample time is afforded for side trips to Mt. Vernon, Old Point Comfort and other adjacent points. Tickets valid on all trains, whether limited, express or local, going and returning.

Trains leave Wheeling at 6:10 a. m. and 6:10 p. m., and for these two trains only tickets be sold. Pullman sleeping cars on evening train. Round trip rate $10.00. Correspondingly low rates from other stations. mww
